

Review Exercise: Possessive 's'

Change the sentence so that it includes 's or s'. For example: Question: Those are the (shoes that belong to the boys). Answer: Those are the boys' shoes.

1. She broke her _____ (computer that belongs to her husband).
2. She cooked the _____ (lunch that belongs to the boy).
3. Those are my _____ (suitcases that belong to my grandparents).
4. These are the _____ (bags that belong to the girls).
5. These are _____ (toys that belong to Julie).
6. These are the _____ (parking spaces that belong to the managers).
7. We ate the _____ (sweets that belong to the teacher).
8. These are my _____ (shoes that belong to my mother).
9. These are the _____ (drinks that belong to the men).
10. That is the _____ (game that belongs to the children).
11. This is my _____ (recipe that belongs to my grandmother).
12. We stayed at my _____ (house that belongs to my parents).
13. She picked up our _____ (parcels that belong to our friends).
14. I wore my _____ (dress that belongs to my sister).
15. This is _____ (brother who belongs to Alex).
16. Do you have the _____ (presents that belong to the teachers)?
17. That is _____ (car that belongs to John).
18. Those are the _____ (changing rooms that belong to the women).
19. We picked up the _____ (books that belong to the student).
20. We went to our _____ (house that belongs to our neighbours).

Review Exercise: Possessive 's'

1. She broke her husband's computer.
2. She cooked the boy's lunch.
3. Those are my grandparents' suitcases.
4. These are the girls' bags.
5. These are Julie's toys.
6. These are the managers' parking spaces.
7. We ate the teacher's sweets.
8. These are my mother's shoes.
9. These are the men's drinks.
10. That is the children's game.
11. This is my grandmother's recipe.
12. We stayed at my parents' house.
13. She picked up our friends' parcels.
14. I wore my sister's dress.
15. This is Alex's brother.
16. Do you have the teachers' presents?
17. That is John's car.
18. Those are the women's changing rooms.
19. We picked up the student's books.
20. We went to our neighbours' house.